

Kerri Sauer
APRN-BC, WCC

The role of the APRN at Westview is to function as a 'physician expander' to enhance medical services through more effective integration of medical, nursing, and rehabilitation services.

A Nurse Practitioner (NP) is available to complement, not replace, physician care to improve clinical outcomes. The NP can limit delays in treatment for work-related acute injuries.

OFFERING:

- Expedited Assessment, Evaluation, Referral, Treatment and Plan of Care
- Centrally-located in the "Quiet Corner"
- Experienced in Primary Care, Orthopedic, and Internal Medicine

ROLE OF APRN

1. Increased accessibility/efficiency of care.

The NP is available on a continuing basis. This facilitates communication and ultimately efficiency in providing care and meeting common goals.

2. Availability to attend to minor problems.

With advanced assessment and diagnostic skills, the NP improves care through timely assessment, diagnosis, intervention or referral, and evaluation.

3. Cost efficiency.

A NP also saves time regarding assessment and subsequent treatment to get employees back to work sooner.

4. Increased health education and counseling.

By being available for counseling and teaching about workers' health status, health improvement strategies and self-care abilities, the NP empowers individuals to take an active role in their health and care.

5. Increased quality of care and a multidisciplinary resource.
